Navigating Interdisciplinary Careers

Professional and Academic Development (PAD) Seminar Series
Friday, February 22, 2013 – 1:00 p.m. to 2:30 p.m.
Welcome Center Auditorium

Discussion Topics:
- Lessons from the literature on stages of career development
- Student-mentor-collaborator roles in skills development and interdisciplinary research
- Strategies for multiple careers
- Strategies for tenure and promotion
- Balance of disciplinary and interdisciplinary work in research and teaching

Moderator:
Julie Thompson Klein, Faculty Fellow for Interdisciplinary Development, Division of Research and Professor of Humanities, English
julie.klein@wayne.edu

Panelists:
Margaret E. Winters, Associate Provost for Academic Personnel, Office of the Provost and Professor of French and Linguistics, Classical and Modern Languages, Literatures, and Cultures
mewinters@wayne.edu

Christine Chow, Associate Dean for Research and Graduate Studies, College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and Professor of Chemistry
cchow@wayne.edu

Ambika Mathur, Interim Dean of the Graduate School; Director of the Postdoctoral Office; Director of the MD/PhD program; and Professor of Pediatrics
au1432@wayne.edu